ANSWER THE CALL

Take the Next Step Now

Volunteer firefighters train for emergency response when communities call. The call may come in the middle of the night, and in almost every situation, under stressful and emotional circumstances. Our volunteers tell us about the tremendous rewards that come with their work. We know there are others with the same courage, commitment, and compassion. Do you have what it takes?

Basic Requirements

- Minimum 18 years of age
- Physically able to perform tasks and duties of the job
- Able to commit to training
- Live and/or work in or near the response area
- No conviction of a criminal offense related to the job duties of a firefighter

Responsibilities

- Work as part of an organized, trained team to respond to emergency situations
- Protect citizens in times of crisis
- Perform the duties of emergency responder, fire suppression and public education as assigned
- Learn the skills of an emergency responder
- Respond to a broad range of emergency situations
- Provide pre-hospital care for victims
- Be a community role model
- Responsible for upgrading and maintaining skills, knowledge, and physical requirements
- Maintain the fire station and upkeep of firefighting equipment

What it takes

Being a volunteer firefighter for one of Canada's fire departments is not something you do; it is something you are. If you have a desire to contribute to keep your community safe, you could be a volunteer firefighter. We need women and men who respond to fires and emergencies, and those who can assist with community education, fundraising and administration.

"We are a department of men and women from varied backgrounds taking great pride in our ability to serve and protect our neighbors. The Cherry Creek Fire Department and its members are committed to protecting life and property during an emergency. We may never know what we will encounter on each call, but we will always proceed with the same level of professionalism, commitment, and service no matter the situation."
